Grain Prices All Decline-Coffee Goes Under 10 Cents.

After a slight advance in the early trading prices in the wheat market began to sag, and finally broke almost 2 cents a bushel from the high of the forencon, under heavy liquidation credited to Wall Foreign markets were all higher, but there was little export inquiry and no ousiness reported. There was a little renear the finish, leaving the close net %@%c under Tuesday's last prices. forn struck a new high level in the early trading, September going to 60c. The advance brought out some heavy selling. under which there was a break which wiped out the gain and left prices at the lose, showing a net loss for the day of late trading, closing net 1/26%c down,

Continuing its downward course, the coffee market broke into the 9-cent level yesterday, both the June and July options oing below 10 cents in the final trading. Opening prices were down 21 to 25 points

FIOUR AND MEAL — Flour was again guiet, as buyers withdrew in view of the late weakness of wheat, and prices were nominal. COFFEE—For the first time in about two years the initial figure of 90 appeared in the list of cofies prices, when June closed at 9.56 bid and July at 9.97c. News was of a very bearish character, especially the developments in Europe, where both Havre and Hamburg were weak and lower, apparently under heavy liquidation. Brazil was also weak, and cost and frieight offers were 10 to 20 points below Tuesday's prices. At the outset local prices were 21 to 25 points lower; selling pressure was remarkably light during the forencon, and prices worked up a little on moderate covering. In the afternoon, however, there was active selling, believed to be on margin calls as well as for European account and by local bears. Prices weakened under this, but the market showed resistance and changes were not particularly wide, prices closing around the bottom, with a net loss of 25 to 25 points. Cales were fair buyers early, and this appeared to have a stimulating influence, although selds from covering the market lacked buying power. Spot prices were weak, at 10% (10%) for Rich No. 78, Local contract pr

MILK AND CREAM—On the advice of counsel, the Milk Exchange, at the regular monthly meeting in Jersey City last Thurgday, decided to make no more quotations or rates. Counsel decided that the exchange in so doing would be violating the corporation laws recently passed in New Jersey under the urging of Governer, now President. Wilson. The result is that dealers are making their rates individually, basing them in the neighborhoods where they compete with the Borden or Shelfield Farm rates upon those paid by these companies. Had the exchange made a quotation it probably would have been 25 c a quart for Grade C and 3c for Grade B in the 26-cent gone, which would be considerably higher than the Borden rate. There is a surplus in the market, and dealers are praying for warmer weather. The receipts of milk and cream in 40-quart cans for the week ended May 21 were as follows:
